DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application was filed under USC 371

There is a lack of unity under PCT Rule 13 because there is no "special technical feature" common to all the groups which defines the contribution which each of the inventions makes over the prior art. In the present case, there is no common "special technical feature" because the general inventive concepts set forth; for example, in claims 1, 7 and 10 do not define over the teachings of the prior art (GB-A-1-008-671 & EP-A-0-078-891)

Group I: Claim(s) 1-6, 11, 12, 15 and 16, drawn to a metallic aircraft wing skin.

Group II: Claim(s) 7-9, 13, 14, drawn to method of manufacturing an aircraft wing structure.

Group III: Claim(s) 10, drawn to method of designing and manufacturing an aircraft wing.

2. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of strip shapes of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1. (Disclosed as alternative structures on page 5, lines 1-10 of the specification.)
The species are as follows:

- a. The shape of a strip defined by a surface described by the movement of a notional straight line normal to the first surface that follows the outline of the strip at the second surface
 - b. The strips having the notional shapes that represent the deviation from a notational third surface, the notional third surface being parallel to the first surface and being separated as far from the first surface as possible whilst being wholly contained within the wing skin.
3. Within each of the Groups I-III above, there is a lack of unity between the following patentably distinct species:
- c. Embodiment of Figure 1
 - d. Embodiment of Figure 6

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

4. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
